

Twelfth Census of the United States.

CENSUS BULLETIN.

No. 10.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

October 24, 1900.

POPULATION OF CALIFORNIA BY COUNTIES AND MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS.

This bulletin, prepared under the direction of Mr. WILLIAM C. HUNT, chief statistician for population, gives the aggregate population of California by counties and minor civil divisions, according to the official count of the returns of the Twelfth Census, taken as of June 1, 1900.

California was admitted as a state September 9, 1850. Table 1 shows the population of California at each census from 1850 to 1900, inclusive, together with the increase by number and per cent during each decade.

TABLE 1.—POPULATION OF CALIFORNIA: 1850 TO 1900.

CENSUS YEARS.	Population.	INCREASE.
		Number.	Per cent.
1900	1,485,053	276,923	22.9
1890	1,208,130	343,436	39.7
1880	864,694	304,447	54.3
1870	560,247	180,253	47.4
1860	379,994	287,397	310.3
1850	92,597

The population of the state in 1900 is 1,485,053 as against 1,208,130 in 1890, representing an increase since 1890 of 276,923, or 22.9 per cent. A small portion of this increase is due to the fact that there were 5,107 Indians and 161 other persons, or a total of 5,268 persons, on Indian reservations, etc., in California, who were specially enumerated in 1890 under the provisions of the census act, but were not included in the general population of the state at that census. The population of the state in 1850 was 92,597, and during the ten years from 1850 to 1860 it increased 287,397, or 310.3 per cent, showing a total population in 1860 of 379,994. During the decade from 1860 to 1870 the increase was only 180,253, or 47.4 per cent, but for each of the three succeeding decades the numerical increase has been much greater, though the percentage of increase for the last two decades has declined.

The population of California in 1900 is more than sixteen times as large as that given for 1850, the first census in which the population of the state appears.

The total land surface of California is, approximately, 155,980 square miles, the average number of persons to the square mile at the censuses of 1890 and 1900 being as follows: 1890, 7.7; 1900, 9.5.

Table 2 shows the population of California by counties at each census from 1850 to 1900, inclusive, while table 3, which immediately follows, shows, for each county, the increase (or decrease) by number and per cent during the ten years from 1890 to 1900.

¹ Decrease.

The following territorial changes in the counties of California have been made since 1890: Glenn was organized from a part of Colusa in 1892; Kings was organized from a part of Tulare in 1893; Madera was organized from a part of Fresno in 1893; and Riverside was organized from parts of San Bernardino and San Diego in 1893.

Of the 57 counties in the state all but 11 have increased in population during the decade, the counties showing more than 50 per cent of increase being Tuolumne, 83.5 per cent; Kern, 68.0 per cent; and Los Angeles, 67.8 per cent. Los Angeles county shows the largest numerical increase (68,844), but more than three-fourths of this increase is due to the increase in the population of the city of Los Angeles.

The 11 counties showing a decrease in population are Alpine, Butte, Colusa, Del Norte, Eldorado, Lake, Plumas, Sierra, Stanislaus, Tulare, and Yuba.

Table 4 shows the population of California by minor civil divisions, so far as it was separately returned at the censuses of 1890 and 1900.
